Heritage Art Guild Workshop – Review. Lance Green, Saturday, September 7, 2019

Heritage Fine Arts Guild's 2019-2020 workshop season has started off in wonderful style with a return visit from one of our favorite artists, Lance Green. His workshops are always empowering and educational. They are a great way to get your creativity flowing. Unlike many workshop leaders, who expect you to paint like they do, or to paint the same thing as a group so that they can correct your work, Lance takes a different route. He works with you to free up your own art and strengthen your skills and your vision no matter where you are in your journey as an artist. He encourages participants to be free and spontaneous with their paint. He feels that the best paintings are ones where they are in some way autobiographical, even if they are only of your current mood. One of Lance's favorite sayings is to look at what happened while you were painting. What he means by this, is that if you are loose enough, your personality, or mood or that "certain something" will come through the painting, without needing careful planning. He is good at helping people move toward such an objective. The results, as you can see from the accompanying photos are wonderful. If you missed this workshop, you missed a good one.

Thank you, Christopher Ford, for your wonderful write-up and Beatrice for the photographs.

President's Message

Heritage Fine Art Guild Members and Friends:

Always reluctant to give up on summer, I don't like to say it, but fall has undeniably arrived, and with it, the time of year when it's hard for me to get in a proper run/walk workout without stopping and taking pictures every few steps along the way... I hope the prolonged period of beautiful weather has given everyone ample opportunity to get out and enjoy the sights—and hopefully convert them into some stunning paintings very soon!

Speaking of... It's not just nature's time to show off its best and brightest colors, it is ours as well. If you haven't already done so, be sure to submit your entries for This is Colorado 2019 before it's too late! It's our second year for both online submissions and payment so the process should be quicker and easier than ever.

For last-minute inspiration and that little nudge you may need to take your art to that "pro level", join us for Lee Wasilik's workshop this Saturday. Lee, multi-year past president and longtime friend and member of Heritage, is a wonderful artist and inspiring instructor—you are sure to come away with some great insights into “Painting like a Pro”. See you there or at any of our other upcoming events—all designed to help you... get involved and keep painting!

<https://www.arapahoe.edu/2019-colorado/submission-information>

Up to three images may be entered, $35 for members and $40 for non-members.
After you submit your registration you may pay online at www.heritage-guild.com.

The entry deadline has been extended to midnight October 31, 2019.

The Juror for this year's show is Steve Griggs, a local Colorado Artist and teacher. Mr. Griggs graduated from Michigan State University, with a degree in Studio Arts, and attended Art Center College of Design in Pasadena, California. Although, he has occasionally dabbled in other media, watercolor is his artistic first love.

About the Heritage Fine Arts Guild of Arapahoe County

The Heritage Fine Arts Guild of Arapahoe County (<http://www.heritage-guild.com>) is a non-profit corporation organized in 1974 by Colorado artists. The guild hosts art exhibits at several local venues in Littleton. In cooperation with the Colorado Gallery of the Arts at Arapahoe Community College, the Guild holds "This is Colorado," an annual, juried, statewide art show. The Guild sponsors weekly group painting sessions and workshops by accomplished guest artists. Membership is open to individuals, at all levels of experience in the fine arts media, as well as those interested in art appreciation. The Guild is supported in part by a grant from the Scientific and Cultural Facilities District (SCFD) serving the seven-county Denver Metropolitan area.

Upcoming Workshops

All workshops are held at the First Presbyterian Church, 1609 W. Littleton Blvd. in Littleton, CO, unless otherwise indicated. Doors open at 8:30 am. For more information about these workshops, contact Mary kay Jacobus at mkstudio@comcast.net or tel. 303-594-4667.

"Paint Like a Pro" with Artist Lee Wasilik

Saturday, October 5, 2019 9am-3pm at the First Presbyterian Church, 1609 W. Littleton Blvd, Littleton CO. There are still openings for Lee's workshop

Lee Wasilik for a day of artistic exploration. You will learn how to handle a variety of brushes to create crisp spontaneous strokes. And you'll have fun working with unorthodox tools that give your paintings that professional edge. Finally, you will take what you have learned to create a painting that is truly all your own.

This workshop is for all levels of experience – from the beginner to the experienced artist. It is designed for liquid media such as oil, acrylic, watercolor, gouache, ink etc., but NOT for pastel, colored pencils, or other non-liquid media.

Spirit Lake by Lee Wasilik

"Joyful Collage" with Patricia Barr Clarke

Saturday, November 2, 2019 9am-3pm at the First Presbyterian Church, 1609 W. Littleton Blvd, Littleton CO

"LaBatuecas, Spain" Watercolor, Rice paper by Patricia Barr Clarke

Patricia will demonstrate how to make expressive, vibrant collages using watercolor paints, recycled materials, ephemera, and handmade textured papers.

This workshop will focus on design, color choices, value and texture using the participants' art materials of choice (watercolor, acrylic, gouache, color pencils, etc.) and playful experimentation with abstraction and realism.

The workshop will start with a demo and examples of 8 or more different types of collage. Participants will have time to play with the materials, experimenting with making collage materials and making finished collages. * Patricia will bring special glues, found objects, handmade papers, ephemera packets, supports, old brushes for glue, for everyone to use.

"The Importance of the Pencil Sketch in Conjunction to Watercolor Painting" with Robert Gray

Saturday, December 7, 2019 9am-3pm at the First Presbyterian Church, 1609
W. Littleton Blvd, Littleton CO

This will be a two-stage watercolor workshop. The first stage will be figures and can include animals, with the emphasis on the pencil sketch. The second stage will be a landscape done wet on wet.

Material List:

- bring your favorite paper
- watercolors
- easel
- paper towels or sponges
- brushes
- bring pencils to sketch with; i.e., suggested 2b, 4b, 6b
- bring reference photos of things you wish to paint

A SNEAK PEEK FOR UPCOMING 2020 WORKSHOPS

"A New Look at Tools and Skills" with Homare Ikeda

Saturday, March 7, 2020 9am-3pm at the First Presbyterian Church, 1609 W.
Littleton Blvd, Littleton CO

Purple by Homare Ikeda

Brush is an extension of your finger. A twig, a piece of cardboard or something other than brush might be a good tool for your painting. This workshop is designed to give artists a new look at tools and skills. Students will be working with the unconventional tool to be free from your expectation. Being in outside of your norm, you will discover a hidden talent that might help your painting style. The workshop is not much to do with how to paint, its emphasis on exploration.

For more information and material supplies for upcoming workshops please go to www.heritage-guild.com.

All workshops are held on the 1st Saturday of the month unless otherwise noted
