

Kelly Almer – Artist Bio

Kelly Almer is a local artist, living in Littleton, CO. She has been drawing since she was in the first grade when her parents gave her space in their laundry room to create while listening to the radio for hours on end. She hasn't stopped since then and loves to bring this love and passion to every picture she creates.

Kelly decided to go back to her artistic roots when she picked up colored pencils in November of 2024. Her artwork includes realistic animals, cityscapes, seasonal items, local and international sites.

She has shown her work in the "This is Colorado 2025" gallery exhibition in September/October of 2025 and the Stanton Art Gallery HFAG members show in November, 2025.

One of her pieces is in the "CP Magic" Showcase issue for 2025. She will also be the featured cover and inside artist in the upcoming October, 2026 issue.

In that magazine she will teach a colored pencil tutorial, was interviewed about her trade, and several of her pieces will be featured as well.

Some of her work can also be found as cards and purchased at St. Nick's Christmas and Collectibles store in Littleton, Colorado.

She can be reached via email at:
coffeeshopclassroom@gmail.com

Her Instagram account is: columbinewatercolors