Biography

I am a local Littleton artist that specializes in abstract painting with some references to landscape and music.

I have been exploring my artistic passion for over 40 years. I studied art at the University of Northern Colorado working towards my fine arts degree and changed paths midway to complete my Business Degree. My passion for creating art never diminished so I later attended Arapahoe Community College to get a degree in Graphic Design, where I fell in love with sculpting. I completed the sculpting curriculum at ACC and then joined the Art Students League of Denver.

I began incorporated ideas from sculpting into my paintings. Since then I have grown and delighted in experimenting with new techniques and styles through the league and many great workshops at other venues. I have been extremely fortunate to have wonderful mentors along the way.
