

Polly Jackson Biography

Albuquerque, New Mexico artist Polly Jackson has forty-five years of painting experience and twenty years of teaching experience. She earned a B.A. in Studio Art from the University of New Mexico and her work is in the Round House Capitol Arts Foundation Collection (permanent collection) in Santa Fe. Her paintings have also been shown in The Albuquerque Museum and Bernalillo County Art in Public Places, and they are in private collections around the world. Currently she teaches acrylic and pastel painting as well as drawing and plein air painting, and enjoys sharing her students' work on her website (<http://areyoupainting.blogspot.com/>).

Polly has been featured in Southwest Art Magazine and was named as an Artist of the Month in another issue of this publication. She has also had one person shows in Austin TX, Vail, CO, Galisteo and Santa Fe, NM, and New Orleans, LA.

Polly's work can be seen on her website at www.pollyjackson.com.

